3000 temporary job opportunities of Seasonal Agriculture workers program, South Korea 2024

Dear Madam,

We are a reputed employment agency (Recruitment Company) in South Korea. And, we are engaged in providing workers from our country as well as foreign countries for the labor needs of our country. For this year we could secure 3000 temporary job opportunities for Sri Lanka.

The visa type E9 is issued to bring permanent workers to Korea from other countries. The process of bringing foreign workers for permanent jobs for a period of five years takes two and half years. That amount of time is taken because those employees must pass an exam on the Korean language and must pass certification courses related to the relevant fields of work. Since it is a time consuming process it has not been possible to bring the required number of workers to the republic of South Korea yet.

Due to the above facts, the Korean immigration Department is introducing a new visa system to enter Korea for temporary employment as E8. Under that system, workers can be sent to work seasonally for agriculture. No examination system or certificates are required for this visa process.

Sending workers through this system is done through correspondence between Korean mayors or governors and a Sri Lankan mayor or governor and this is done under the intervention of Korean employment agency as well Sri Lankan company.

Our employment agency has secured 3000 employee opportunities for Sri Lanka out of the number of employees required for twelve cities in Korea. This program will generate 48 Mn USD as salary of the Sri Lankan employees.

We are highlighting the fact that this program has a strict time frame because the requirement is for seasonal workers. We hope to visit Sri Lanka on 23rd of October to discuss about the necessary arrangements to send the required group of workers. We kindly request you to make necessary arrangement to meet with relevant government officials for the discussion to carry out this task.

Thanks, Best Regards

OH JE WHAN
President DH GLOBAL
